MeLine Pigmentation Peel

A Game Changer In Hyperpigmentation Treatment

How The MeLine Peel Works

So, what exactly is the MeLine Pigmentation Peel, and how does it work?

Described as "controlled chemical dermabrasion," the MeLine treatment is a customised process that utilises MeLine's specially formulated peel mask to gently remove the outermost layer of dead skin cells.

The process includes preparation, peeling, and a set of prescribed aftercare products for use at home. These products are expertly formulated to control pigmentation, reduce melanin production, stimulate skin cell renewal, repair sun damage, and balance skin tone, ensuring that your post-peel complexion is beautifully maintained.

Fades Up To 95% Of Pigmentation

The MeLine peel has been scientifically proven to reduce visible hyperpigmentation by 90-95% within 60-90 days.

Suitable For ALL Fitzpatrick Skin Types

Another great thing about this treatment is that it's suitable for all Fitzpatrick skin types. This means that no matter what your skin tone may be, you could benefit from the MeLine peel.

Addresses ALL Types Of Pigmentation

MeLine peel addresses all types of pigmentation. Whether you're dealing with sun-induced hyperpigmentation, post-inflammatory hyperpigmentation, or melasma, this treatment can help to even out your complexion and give you a brighter, more radiant glow.

Treatment options for Intimate areas

MeLine offers an Intimate peel treatment for reducing pigmentation in these areas too! such as the underarms, and even the genito-anal region.
